

Seattle City Attorney's Office - Negotiating Prosecutors

Updated 12/22/2016

Unit	Defendant Last Name	Prosecutor
EPU	A	Kevin Kilpatrick
EPU	B-C	Andrew Tsoming
EPU	D-G	Danielle Malcolm
EPU	H-K	Heather Aman
EPU	L-N	John McGoodwin
EPU	O-R	Miriam Norman
EPU	S	Mindy Longanecker
EPU	T-Z	Phillip Chu
DVU	A-D	Krystle Curley
DVU	E-K	Jeffrey Kaatz
DVU	L-Q	Ifeoma Monu
DVU	R-Z	Joe Everett

The Criminal Division has launched a new Early Plea Unit (EPU). All non-DV cases will be assigned and negotiated by an EPU prosecutor based on the defendant's last name. If your client is a defendant in a domestic violence (DV) case, please contact the DV prosecutor assigned to the case if you wish to engage in negotiations. Please consult with your client's assigned prosecutor PRIOR to the first pre-trial hearing. Prosecutors will offer the City's "best deal" at the negotiation stage and the offer will expire once the case is set for trial. Assistant City Prosecutors will not engage in negotiations during the pre-trial calendar.